SPECIFIC PILLS,

After Medicine,

One of the greatest ever offered to the Public.

DISCOVER'D by Dr. Hammond,

After many years regular experience, for curing the most inveterate leprosy, scurvy, pimpled faces, rheumatism, old sores or ulcers, evil, fistula, piles, long continued inflammation of the eyes, and all other chronic disorders arising from foul blood, so as never to return again. And likewise has been found serviceable in the gout, by reducing the number, shortening the continuance, and alleviating the pains of the fit; to be used in any season or climate, without confinement, alteration of diet, hindrance of business, or danger of cold.

A medicine the greatest, safest, and most certain alternative ever invented, and never administered by any of the faculty before.

Cit. Tard. Jacande, & sine regimine sumendum.

It not only clears the skin of eruptions, and prevents the return of them by purifying the blood, but mends the whole constitution, and amazingly causes an appetite and good digestion. The effect may depend on these effects. The three following very remarkable cures selected from many others sufficiently prove the efficacy.

To the Public.

I Superna Short, wife of Mr. Thomas Short, at Beadwater, near Bristol, do attest I was terribly afflicted twelve months with an inveterate leprosy, especially my face and hands covered with eruptions so frightful, no one cared to look at me, and after consulting several of the faculty, without any hopes of success, I took Dr. HAMMOND'S SPECIFIC PILLS, which alone (by GOD'S blessing) has entirely cured me. I am in duty bound to acknowledge it with gratitude, that all who are afflicted may receive a cure. Witness my hand, Superna Short.

Witness: THOMAS SHORT, husband.

T. ROGERS, Queen Square, Bristol.

MOSES COTTE, Beadwater.

I Elizabeth Hopkins, do certify, for the public good, I was greatly afflicted three years with a violent scorbutic humor in my face, and by taking Dr. Hammond's specific pills am entirely cured. Witness my hand, ELIZABETH HOPKINS.

At the four Lockings, Temple-street, Bristol.

Bristol Exchange Coffee-House, November 29, 1766.

To Dr. HAMMOND,

SIR,

In justice to your invaluable medicine, and for the good of mankind, I hereby acquaint you, I was miserably afflicted five years with the leprosy in my hands so bad, that my nails fell off, also with several clefts in my hands and fingers, from which issued an offensive discharge, after having the best advice, without the least good effect, your specific pills were recommended, which I have taken, and, by the blessing of God, they have entirely freed me from my disorder. Therefore you are at liberty to publish this, for the benefit of all who are afflicted in like manner. As witness my hand, JANE HAY.

Witness ELIZABETH PORTER.

These pills are an infallible cure for the yaws in every stage, even the most inveterate: Also for the remains of the venereal disease, by a bad cure, or frequently contracted. Both these disorders will be entirely eradicated, even where salvation fails, by the use of this medicine. Sixty pills in each box, price 12 s. 6 d. Binding, with printed directions, and signed by the author, THOMAS HAMMOND, M. B. Bristol.

N. B. These pills have this excellent quality never to lose their virtue, nor suffer by damps or moisture.

Good allowances will be made to those that take a quantity.

Also the genuine TURLINGTON'S Balsam of Life, to be sold by Capt. William Sloger, on board the brigantine Prosper, at Mr. Sumner's wharf.

LONDON, June 16.

Tradition in Moorfields laid a considerable wager, that he drove his horse in a chaise, with himself and his wife in it, who both together weigh thirty-two stone, horseman's weight, from his own door to the Castle gate at Wicford, and back again, which is fifty miles, in ten hours. The horse was neither to stop, nor the parties to get out of the chaise. They set out yesterday morning at three o'clock, and performed it with ease in less than nine hours. Several bets were depending on this whimsical performance.

If credit may be given to some advices from Rome, his Holiness the Pope had lately made a fruitless solicitation to the republic of Genoa for obtaining an establishment in the island of Corsica, for the eldest son of the late Chevalier de St. George, the Senate not choosing to risk incurring the displeasure of certain powers, to whom such a step might give umbrage.

According to letters from Paris, it was given out, that notwithstanding the late seizure of the Jesuits effects in Spain, the removal of these fathers to Corsica would probably enrich that island about two millions of livres.

We hear an eminent manufacturer at Birmingham, has contracted with an English merchant in London, to furnish 50,000 muskets for the like number of bayonets.

A letter from Edinburgh mentions, that the plan of the new town, for which Mr. Craig, architect, lately received a gold medal, will, when executed, be a very elegant and convenient little city. The town is to be built on the North side of Edinburgh, where are now several fields and enclosures, separated from the capital by the North Loch or lake, which is to be drained and confined into a canal, over which a handsome stone bridge is now erecting; and that there will be several timber bridges over the same, after the Chinese taste, for foot passengers; on each side of the canal is to be a street and terrace walk of 50 feet wide, and the sides of banks planted with rows of trees; the fields, where the new town is to be built on, rise with a gradual ascent facing the south, which are all planned out in regular streets from south to north, and from east to west, crossing at right angles; each allotment to be leased or sold out, is to consist of half an acre of ground, and no more, sufficient for one or two houses, offices, and a small garden, to be regularly built; there are to be common sewers, and the houses to have areas and cellars before them, in the same manner as those in London and Middlesex; great part of the ground is already purchased for building on, agreeable to the plan.

It is said a foreigner lately arrived from the East-Indies, has discovered the true secret of making china ware, with the method of enamelling, as practised in the East.

The parliament have not obtained the end proposed by their remonstrances presented to the king, on the affairs of Brittany; his majesty having given the following answer to the first president and to the two presidents a Mortier; 'I have already made known to my parliament my intentions on the subject of their representations. By accounts lately arrived in the prince Frederick's fleet, we are credibly informed, that the new islands near the straits of Magellan, were, the last summer, very fruitful in pease, beans, turnips, potatoes, &c. the seed of which had been sown by the gentlemen of the men of war stationed at Port Egmont, which was discerned by the Dolphin in her last voyage, and said to be so commodious and safe a harbour as any in the world. That the corn was in the ear when they left that place, which was in January last, answering to our July, the islands lying in nearly the same parallel with London, in the S. u. hemisphere, here. The land being without trees, care had been taken to get a large quantity transported from the fleet. So that with proper management and industry, it is hoped they will one day turn out of the utmost use. These are the islands which some have reported to be so fertile, as not to produce any kind of vegetables;—I had commanded Anson, in his voyage round Cape Horn, known of this port, there is no doubt but that his whole fleet might have gone into the South Sea in good condition.

The rev. Mr. Geo. Whitefield is arrived in town, from his late tour in Wales.

An affair has lately happened at Paris, which will probably make a noise, and is the more to be wondered at, as so much submission is paid in that country to their sovereign. Mr. P. d'Orson, Marquis of Marigny, thinking himself aggrieved by a wall built by the Sieur Gabriel, first architect to the king, on some ground belonging to the late Marchioness of Pompadour, he sent an hundred workmen, escorted by armed perfors, to demolish it. It is added, that as Mr. Gabriel had done nothing in this affair but by authority from his majesty, it will be examined by the council, and all persons concerned in this act of violence punished with the utmost severity.

It is added, that his catholic majesty hath also prohibited all processions within his kingdom, except that on the festival of Corpus Christi.'

We hear the Dutch are buying up great quantities of British manufactures to be shipped for Curacao and St. Eustatia in the West-Indies, intended for carrying on a very lucrative trade with the Spanish settlements in South-America.

JUNE 25.

The following uncommon circumstance is copied from the Reading mercury, which they say, may be relied on as a fact:—'A few days since Mr. Haiker, collar-maker, at Arleford in Hanth, having purchased five white peas for dinner, ordered the same to be boiled, which was accordingly done, without making the least alteration in the peas, either in the hardness or the appearance, though boiled for upwards of five hours; the next day they were boiled for the same space of time, and as they still continued as hard as before, consequently not fit for eating, he threw them away. It happened just after, that Mr. Gale, a shoemaker, passed by, and picked up a few of them, which he planted in his garden, and in a day or two they sprung up to the height of five or six inches, and appear likely to produce a plentiful crop.'

It is said no more will be granted to any person than from one thousand to five thousand acres of land in East Florida, in order soon to improve the country, as there are many applications making for grants in that fertile colony.

Extract of a letter from S—, June 19.

'Enthusiasm is grown to such a height in this town, that Captain —, of the dragons, who you may remember was a very great rake, is now turned Methodist, and, dressed in his regimental, has harangued the prisoners, in the goal, the country people on market days; and last week the principal gentlemen and ladies of this town, assembled at a private house, to whom he held forth for a considerable time, exclaiming against the pride and luxury of the Salopians, to the astonishment of all present. Some grave people have wished, that the gentleman's preaching may have effect so far, that we might not deserve the appellation of proud Salopians.'

court of Vienna, Paris and Madrid, should pay any regard to the application of the see of Rome against who have already declared in their favour as guarantees of the treaty of Oliva, would exert their force in favour of such declarations.

spect of that for prolonging the twentieth penny, it was refused that his majesty should be most humbly supplanted to withdraw it. To this president went remitted to the parliament fresh letters of justice; which being read, the parliament refused upon an king's orders; and that his majesty should be again

July 10.
Extract of a letter from Lisbon, dated June 12.
"It may be agreeable to you to learn, that an expedition is fitting out here with all possible diligence, to consist of two men of war of the line, a frigate, and four of the Pernambuco company's ships, to carry provisions, together with others, which, it is said, are preparing at Porto. Their destination is kept secret; but it is the general opinion they are distinged for the Rio Grande in Brazil, to operate jointly with the Spaniards in the expulsion of the Jesuits from Paraguay. The destination given out, is, that they are to garrison the Western islands, where it is said there have been some disturbances." We hear from Appisby, in Westmoreland, of two Edward Browns, one a mercer in that town, and the other a clerk of the parish, both born in one day, and were constant companions till they were seventy-eight years old. They both died on the same day, and were both buried in the same grave, by their own desire.
Letters from the frontiers of Spain take notice of some marks of discontent in that kingdom, at what has lately happened with regard to the Jesuits. The governors, commanders, &c. are ordered, it seems, to have a watchful eye, in their respective departments, over the public tranquillity; to prevent any tumultuous assemblies; and to arrest all such persons as shall discover, either by words or actions, any disapprobation of his majesty's measures. And further, that in order to be prepared against all surprise, as there are not above 80,000 regular troops, and 25,000 militia in the kingdom, his Catholic majesty has intreated the king of France to reinforce his troops in the garrisons nearest to Spain, that they may be ready to assist the Spanish troops, in case there should be any occasion to assist the spirit of sedition.
They advise from Minorca, that two capacious the bank of England, when the minutes of the former court were read, and then the governor made a motion for adjournment, which was agreed to.

We hear from the West of England, that the colony agents are very busily employed in engaging some hundreds of the best manufacturers in the woollen branch to go over to New York and Boston, on great encouragement.—There will be little reason to doubt of their success, if it be true, that in those parts the poor working people are not half employed, and that the eating unwholesome food occasions diseases which carry many off.
We are credibly informed, that the report of several large commotions for goods having lately been countermanded from North America, is entirely void of foundation; on the contrary, three capital houses in the city are now proceeding in the completion of very extensive orders from Boston, New-York, Carolina, and Philadelphia.
In the course of last sessions of parliament, 209 bills received the royal assent, viz. 95 public, and 214 private; which is the greatest number that has signed the 30th of May last, when all the French troops, without exception, were set at liberty, and the three ships which were taken by the Moors during the time that this negotiation was carrying on were restored.

make a tour round by Portsmouth, Plymouth, and other sea-ports, and that there will be a review of the fleet, and a sea fight at Portsmouth.
The French troops, which used to be clothed only once in three years, are now clothed every year; their arms which used to be light, are now equally heavy with ours, and able bodied men of near six feet only are enlisted.

Thirteen of the best hammer men and forge men in the iron manufactory have been engaged to go from Sheffield to America, for which a handsome premium is given them; and great wages for two years certain, and six shillings a week to each of their wives and families as they shall be for that time.
They have also given 100 guineas each for the best saw-makers, and the same money for their wives that they. [If provisions are kept up at the rate they are, the Americans will soon have hands enough to carry on their manufactories, without giving premiums.]
On Thursday night four men, well-dressed, who are said to be Jesuits, were in custody, in Oxford-road, by virtue of a special warrant: Two of them spoke tolerably good English.
No changes have yet been declared at court. The right hon. Mr. C—y, whose resignation was voluntary, has been devised, as we are informed, to remain in his place till a proper person is chosen to fill it. The above gentleman has several times lately had the honour of private conferences with his majesty.
It is said, that 450,000 l. were remitted into his kingdom, on account of corn exported to France, Spain, and Portugal, in the years 1764 and 1765.

den market, was safely brought to bed of three fine boys, who are all likely to live; and last Saturday, to the surprise of several persons, she was seen ply-ried several burthens.

advice, that it had been discovered that some Dutchmen have, for several years past, carried on a clandestine trade with the inhabitants of Paraguay, to the amount of three millions of piasters per annum.
On the 7th instant, Helen countess Dowager of Glasgow died at Edinburgh, in the 76th year of her age.

had refused M. de Marbois, who commands the French troops in that island, the provisions necespermitted to disembark there.

died at Warsaw the 21st ult. in the 64th year of his age; greatly lamented by the king, who admired his abilities and moderation; and his opinion had always great weight in the public deliberations.
They write from Edinburgh, that such great additions and improvements are about to be made to that city, as will render it almost equal to any metropolis in Europe for extent and elegance; some new and spacious streets are to be built on a fine healthy piece of ground, commanding a prospect of the sea; and a bridge is to be constructed over a deep glen, to connect them with the rest of the city.
INTELLIGENCE EXTRAORDINARY.
THE terms upon which the M— of R—offered to come into the administration, were certainly as follows:
1. The D— of R—d to go to Ireland.
2. Lord A—e to be at the head of the army.
3. Mr. Y— to be lord chancellor.
4. Mr. C—y to be secretary of state for the foreign department.
Which were refused.
Thursday lord A—e set out for Woburn.
Previous to the offer of the above terms, application was made to those who have been firm and uniform in their opposition to the Favourite; and the readable answer which they made was, "That they would not treat clandestinely; the whole of the opposition (i. e. all the leaders) must be taken in,
or none."

New Advertisements.

AS I find the advertisement which I lately put into the papers, requesting all persons who ever any ways indebted to the estate of Benjamin Backhouse, deceased, to call and settle per to give this timely notice to such persons as may be in any respect indebted to the said estate, that unless they settle with me by the time prescribed in the former advertisement (which was the first day of December next) they may expect to find their bonds, notes, and accounts in the hands of John Matthews settling all the concerns of the aforesaid estate in as short time as possible.

desired to bring in their demands, to

I Have appointed Messrs. CARNE & WILSON my Agents, for the sale of my MEDICINES in CAROLINA; and all persons may be supplied wholesale and retail by them.

JOHN HILL.

A List of Dr. Hill's Medicines held by Messrs. CARNE & WILSON.

1. PECTORAL BALSAM OF HONEY, For colds, coughs, and asthma. A common cold is often cured, and all the bad consequences prevented that might have followed, by a single dose. — These complaints are so common, that no family should be without the medicine.
 2. ESSENCE OF WATER-DOCK, For the certain cure of the scurvy, and all breakings out. It never once failed in many thousand instances.
 3. TINCTURE OF CENTAURY, A stomachic bitter, that gives a healthy appetite and found digestion. A certain cure for all weakness and disorders in the stomach.
 4. ELIXIR OF BARDANA, For the gout and rheumatism. This re-establishes the health after the fits of the gout, shortens such as follow, and eases the pain. For the rheumatism it is a certain cure, and the disease never returns.
 5. TINCTURE OF SAGE, To lengthen life, and keep off the decays of age; as tremblings, deafness, and all other the weaknesses of an advanced life.
 6. TINCTURE OF VALERIAN, For disorders of the nerves, low spirits, faintness, head-aches, and all kinds of fits.
- All these are pleasant, innocent and efficacious medicines, discovered by the author, in the course of his study of plants, and so safe, that infants may take any of them in a proper dose.

AN EVENING SCHOOL was opened, by the teacher of the YOUTH educated by the SOUTH-CAROLINA SOCIETY, number, the more effectually to give satisfaction: Without boasting, he thinks himself happy in the approbation of many gentlemen and ladies that have employed and recommended him, during five years school-keeping here, and cheerfully relies on a continuance of their favourable protection; as they may be assured, every endeavour that forty years experience of a regular bred LONDON MERCHANT can dictate, shall be faithfully applied to qualify his students for business, expeditiously and properly. — He thanks his good friends for all favours, and hopes to approve himself an useful humble servant of the public, by opening and enlarging the human understanding, and storing the young mind with a compact system of useful science.
